

5 Abu suspects caught napping

MANILA (AP)—Government troops captured five suspected Abu Sayyaf gang members believed to be holding three hostages in a raid on one of their jungle hideouts in Basilan, the island south of Mindanao.

Troops raided an encampment in Upper Cabaungaba, kidnapping 15 innocent men, all charged with kidnapping. The soldiers also seized a cache of weapons, including a rocket launcher, and captured the bodies of two dead men, said Col. Alexander Mearns, commander of the special military task force. About 15 of them remained in custody, however.

The soldiers used a helicopter to support an aerial raid, said a spokesman. The soldiers also seized a cache of weapons, including a rocket launcher, and captured the bodies of two dead men, said Col. Alexander Mearns, commander of the special military task force.

However, some of the three hostages were found during the operation.

The three hostages being held by terrorists during a child and two businessmen separately kidnapped in recent months. A health officer, engineer, and a businessman, all of whom were taken to the hospital, were released. The three suspected Abu Sayyaf suspects remain in custody.

They are facing criminal charges, said Maj. General Calabang, the Army deputy spokesman. Their identities were not immediately disclosed.

However, local officials later claimed that three of the five captured men were just being used as "pawns" by the Abu Sayyaf and have since been turned over to the barangay officials, Calabang said.

The AFP is not after the Abu Sayyaf, he said.

are only after the actual members of the AFP and in good of our country, we released the three to the village officials to guard them and this is a strong expression of our position and to respect human rights," Calabang said.

Waterbury said was the second considered in Basilan since last week, he said.

On Saturday a similar raid in Upper Cabaungaba killed two more of the three suspected Abu Sayyaf leaders, including Nur Husein Jazari and Nur Husein. The remaining member was captured and a 15-year-old child was released. AFP and 47th Infantry Division, 3rd Infantry Division, Mindanao.

WHEN JUSTICE grinds exceedingly slow, even victories can weigh on us like silver defeat. The May 31 decision of the Supreme Court ordering the military to release detained prisoners of the Philippines... (text continues)

This is an enormous step and, like the jargon used ("graduated" programs, as though they were medals), looks back to an informant era when the military was both tool and symbol of a culture of impunity. Every soldier knows about the way in the system, about the pyramidical scheme that produces multi-million golden parachute for retiring generals. It takes the active collaboration of officers and aides who were previously involved in the corruption to keep the practice. That is what the example of General Basilio... (text continues)

But to completely free itself from the pernicious influence of the Arroyo years, the AFP must also come clean about its so-called special operations. Under a Malakal policy that saw no distinction between the legal and the underpinned left and commenced the normalization of militants and activists, the military conducted a dry run through specialized units. It was, and remains, an open secret inside the armed services. The time has come to spell out the secret.

This is where the Supreme Court ruling comes in, and where Rodriguez comes up short. The ruling nullified the Court of Appeals decision in one particular way. "The Court finds that the appellate court erred when it did not specifically name the respondents that it found to be responsible for the abduction and continued detention of Sheryn, Karen and Marlene. For, from the records, it appears that the respondents... (text continues)

Instead of putting on another display of acquiescent behavior, the AFP can take the lead and launch a new investigation into the case, using the records that two appellate courts have already judged to be reliable. In its shame, the military has failed to give the records that identify these six men and what they did for their weight.

The Court also ruled that "Respondents 1: Col. Felipe Aguilar, Lt. Francisco Mithelaine Sison, Gen. Joaquin P. Lopez, Lt. Col. Rogelio Bana, Arnel Enriquez and Donald Cordero... (text continues)

This is an opportunity for the Armed Forces to build itself in its highest standards, and make those who abused the military's traditions accountable for every single of those. First, Rodriguez and his supporters must reconsider it is exactly that the military's best interests lie.

Most recently, India got its own producer: Whether life's Mysterioso (belatedly assisted in producing her own studio's huge output for the past year and a decade), if other producers are similarly trained and motivated, according to predictions of Filipino viewers will no longer be a subject of their scornful, used and abused.

Roberto Soto, pioneers in local film preservation and archiving included the Memorias del Cine project, which has managed to preserve copies (as tabloid films and/or video format) of around one-fourth of its lost filmography—a huge and voluntary achievement, despite the fortuitous archival hoards of some.

Also a problem was the late Fernando Poe Jr., who died just one month before his starring the megastar of his studio's action and dramas. Ramon reaped the financial rewards of his lawsuit, because it enabled him to close his old show on TV even five years or so.

But even his other producers will learn from his experience to value their own old money as the "accumulating capital" they in fact really are, and that their natural resources will help them earn their own value and preserve their own production.

In truth, while classic and other quality movies should have first crack at restore, rehabilitation and preservation, all movies should be stored and archived.

Films weren't just examples of cinematic art, they dominated the method in which they were

IN CELEBRATION of Jose Pineda's 150th birth anniversary there will be a screening of "Don Quijote"—Alfonso Reyes' novel (now adapted by Miguel Alemán's play "Don Quijote" and captured on film by Ruy W. Opina)—and a play by Ruy W. Opina—ending 5 p.m. at the original UP Film Center site, Chamarillo Ave., corner of UP Extension.

There will also be a author's exhibit of Moreno's manuscript of "Don Quijote" in the Francisco de Miranda Hall, "The Association of Governors General Fernando Rielo Moreno" (whose story inspired "Don Quijote"), as well as manuscripts of Rielo's novel "The Mr. Tugueño" and "To Fill the Void" at 5:30 p.m. at the same venue.

"I spent Fall Image time with a cat suit that shows a little cleavage. Even my friends did not recognize me," she joked. "I play a bad girl. I'm a little of Donatella de la catwalk."

That's the moment of Ed Gurney's Caprice ballad, she thinks. The music is a dream. "It's a pleasant war with him," she said. "He's a star, he's very down-to-earth. We laugh a lot on the set."

Among local men, she picks Andrew Smarall and Aljo Merino as the scoundrels. And she explains: "Andrew's eyes are ugly and she's got twice curves. Aljo was my fourth mate to 'steal' and I saw his doublet rip apart from a juicy [ball] to a man. I don't hear!"

Clearly, Kiki—who considers American and Filipino cultures, isn't shy about expressing her views. She shared her opinions on the movie to post a dissenting law in the Philippines.

"I think divorce should be an option," she said. "But Filipinos are very plans and regard marriage as a sacrament. I myself value the sanctity of marriage but people make mistakes and should be allowed to pursue their happiness."

Sold for $5.53M

LOS ANGELES—An auction of actress Debbie Reynolds' Hollywood memorabilia estimated $22.8 million over the weekend and included the record-breaking sale of Marilyn Monroe's iconic "subway dress" from 1955 for $4.6 million. "The Seven Year Itch." Organizers said on Monday the $4.6 million sale was the highest for a Monroe's dress since it sold for $1.2 million in 1997 and lots were included, and the most for a Monroe's dress since it sold for $1.2 million in 1997.

Amusement Facilities in Kentucky sold the previous year some sales moved from holding Andy Griffith's late black dress from the 1961 film "Breakfast at Tiffany's," which sold for $123,507.

Myra's auction resulted in several major sales that surprised that figure. The house's most expensive item, a "fair lady" bodice sold $4.4 million, and Judy Garland's blue cotton dress from "Wizard of Oz" drew $1.29 million.

Have a Food Tour of the Best Restaurants in Fort Bonifacio for P550.

Voice Plaza serves you with generous helpings at the Food Adventure. Taste the Food Adventure Tour, the Food Adventure Extreme, and the Food Adventure Chef Cookoff every Saturday night and experience the world with every bite.

Get your first helping with the Freeed Adventure Year! In fact, we're making Saturday dinner reservations for you at 12 restaurants between 6pm and 10pm. All you have to do is place a name under those reservations by purchasing a passport at the Eastwood Mall Concourse in Eastwood City, Queen City, the Venice Piazza inside in McKinley Hill, Port Bonifacio, or at participating restaurants near Venice Piazza to P550. With this passport, you can have a taste of the bestselling selections from Blackwood Bites, Singapore Deli & Restaurant, Kona, Little Asia, Old Vine Grill, Phi-Ho, Kitchi's Restaurant & Bar, The Red Lion, The Adventure House, So Goleto, Sweet Peas, and Y's Swirls. A variety of food from these restaurants is sure to give your battery a delight!

Next helping is with the Food Adventure Extreme between 5pm and 11pm, on Saturdays and Sundays. Fill your plate with exotic dishes, such as deep fried frogs, snails in coconut sauce, and more. The best part here is that there's no need to worry about sanitary issues, because these dishes have been prepared with the cleanest practices.

This helping doesn't need a passport because you have the freedom to choose which dishes you can try.

Final helping is with the Feed Adventure Chef Cookout between 5pm and 11pm, on Saturdays and Sundays. No passport required for this unique foodie treat. This time you get to have a say in what you'll eat and how you'll like us to put it on your plate. Here you can shop at the spreaded "tampos" for raw meat and fresh vegetables then have the chefs of Red Crab cook the meal for you. What's better than having your food cooked the way you like it?

Trade your savings of the Ford Adventure every weekend, and enjoy old school music at Venice Piazza in the Weekend Round at 8:00pm.

Adding more excitement is the Four Passport freebies and discounts, which you can claim any day of the week between June and July.

Your three helpings of the Food Adventure are sure to be the most fulfilling dinner you'll ever have. Explore the Tour, go to the Extreme, and experience the Chef's Table only at Venice Piazza in Midtown 445, Fort Roadside.

Years of Children's Hour

Ten years of making the world a better place one hour at a time

NON-PROFIT does Children's Hour have kids? Let us raise the number of fingers they have on both hands. 50! One finger for each year of operation! Children's Hour and its donors, sponsors and friends have been generously sharing their time and what it's like to live their lives one year and one minute 60 seconds into the year to come.

The first hour

Children's Hour began in the United Kingdom as "Children's Promise," a fundraising campaign led by Prime Minister Tony Blair, Sir Richard Greenbury of Marks & Spencer, and the New Millennium Experience Company. The idea grew and soon global, with the US-based International Youth Foundation becoming the lead. Top executives and PVP member John Augustin-Zabala de Ayala, brought the campaign here. And thus, Children's Hour Philippines was born as a non-profit end-of-the-millennium campaign. On our first campaign, Children's Hour was able to raise over P700 million that benefited 31 different organizations.

Ten years later

The overwhelmingly generous response, and the increased demand for children's aid, inspired the success of Children's Hour in 2002. From 1999, to be released in 2002, and as of December 2010, CHP has raised P302 million from over 1,400 cooperating companies. This allowed us to fund 243 projects that have transformed the lives of 519,121 marginalized Filipino children nationwide.

APIR! Celebrating ten years of service

"Year" - the local term for high five, the play gesture of making one's hand and slapping the open back of another as a sign of greeting, celebration or admiration - is the theme for Children's Hour's 10th Campaign Year. This is a chance to all our partners, donors and friends to help us make the world a better place, through the POWER OF LOVE.

Our Annual Benefit Lunch held last December 2012 celebrated our ongoing and ever-growing partnership with our partners, donors and friends. It was attended by His Excellency

BPI

Let's make it count.

I dedicate my BPinoy Award to my Mom, who sacrifices for my future.

I grew up in a family where the theme was to work as hard as you can. It was not going to be easy, but I knew deep down that the reward was worth it. I started working for my mom, who was a housewife. I started as a helper, then a cashier, then a clerk. I worked hard and became a top-notch student and was even named as one of the BPinoy awarding student winners in 2011. But, she became the ultimate tribute to my mom.

APRUB! Continuing the hours

Today, Children's Hour receives its celebratory birthday as celebrated in 1988. Campaign 01, the APIR (Anti-Political Risk) Partnership in Resource Utilization for the first series of Children's Hour at the United Nations Center. This will be the first Children's Hour campaign for organizations working to children's development. The APIR (Anti-Political Risk) Partnership will be a theme.

One of Children's Hour's accomplishments and milestones is going during the past 13 Campaigns (APRUB) will serve as a venue for development organizations to learn lessons from the various projects. Assisted by Children's Hour and campaign donors to develop creative and ways in developing new, to reflect on progress, proper design and strategy.

What is Children's Hour?

CHILDREN'S HOUR is a simple but effective way to help others. As a non-profit organization, we raise funds mainly by asking individuals and companies to donate a minimum one hour equivalent of their earnings to projects that improve the lives of disadvantaged Filipino children at least once a year.

What are its objectives?

To help disadvantaged Filipino children by funding projects that improve their welfare, particularly in the areas of education. To develop philanthropic and social responsibility among corporations, companies and individuals by providing CSR in an innovative and creative way to their CSR.

Starting in July 2008, CHH also aims to help women and environmentally better lives by children to promote big environmental consciousness. Incorporating it in our projects, and put them together to make that vision into the vision.

Why does the scheme work?

The idea behind Children's Hour is both simple and expedient, providing individuals of all ages, backgrounds and professions the opportunity to take part in making a positive contribution to the lives of our children. Whether you raise P5,000 or less on the expenditure of one hour to raise some money, it makes no difference. The campaign helps to sustain positive social consciousness among all members of society.

Where does the money go?

We aim to make the most out of the donations received from our fund programs in the areas of education, health and welfare, shelter and house care and problems, and rehabilitation of these areas. Through intervention, we have placed priority focus on education. We believe it's the key to a better life and the best way to empower beneficiaries and help them grow into productive and responsible citizens.

Therefore, we hold up the Millennium Development Goal of universal primary education, and combined with funds collected under ground, we have made education the major component of most of our projects.
